Let us hope that the Republican party is not playing this time to a stand pat audience.

The Washington Post says: "Show your hands!" Here's our Parker royal straight flush.

The "full dinner pail" is a mollow hockery which the Republicans do not care to parade in this campaign.

"I love the thunder of the guns," says Tom Watson. Roosevelt could say the same if he felt as immune as Tom.

King Peter has been annointed, but that is a small matter compared with the way that "grease" has been poured out to make a slick track for Roosevelt into the White House.

If Roosevelt is defeated for President, one of the results most to be dreaded is that he might write another book and tell us "Why the mill won't grind with the waters that have passed by."

"Is life worth living?" asks a magazine writer. Well, it's worth a good deal right now to sit on the stile and see how the Democrats have got the Rough Rider bouncing in the saddle with one foot out of the stirrup.

Reformists are hunting a "cure" for divorces. We know of no cure but a good preventive might be discovered in raising boys and girls with less temper, higher ideals, and aspirations that look beyond having "a good time."

"The use of electricity and new forces in motive power will eventually cause horses to disappear off the face of the earth," says an electrical expert. No, sir, the horse will never disappear as long as the demand for bologna sausage keeps up.

They tell us that Demosthenese, Cicero, Ananias and Crœsus have been skinned to death by the orators, the liars and the rich men of these times. Jonah could also see his finish if he were to come on earth, and as for the man who got beat up and robbed by thieves while on his way to Jerico, he wouldn't be in it going up a ten-foot alley in the days of this writing.

LOCAL DOTS.

— There was "nothing doing" on the local rosin market Tuesday, instead of $2.50 bid as erroneously reported.

— British steamer "Skerryvore," 2,200 tons, Capt. Symonds, arrived yesterday from New York for a cotton cargo.

— The Health Department yesterday lifted the quarantine for diphtheria at 303 Dawson street, the patient, Leonona Alexander, having recovered.

— The advance agent of Forepaugh & Sells Brothers' circus who was here this week has decided to locate the shows at Hilton Park when they visit this city on November 15th.

— Master Knight Davis, the two-year-old son of Mr. W. E. Davis, suffered a painful fracture of the arm by falling from steps at his father's home Tuesday afternoon. The broken arm was set by Dr. L. H. Love.

— It is a pleasure to announce that Mr. Simon W. Sanders is now comfortably installed in his handsome new store, the "Siwasa," on Market street, two doors west of Third. He has one of the prettiest and most up-to-date groceries in the city.

— Thirty-eight members of the Charlotte bar have signed a petition to the Governor urging the appointment of Hon. Heriot Clarkson as Judge of the Superior Court to succeed Judge Hoke, who will be elected Associate Justice of the Supreme Court in November.

— Policeman J. R. Hardee went up to Castle Haynes yesterday and brought back last night a negro named Sidney Huggins, charged with the larceny of some clothing from the house of a resident of Wilmington. The negro will be given preliminary trial in the Mayor's court to-day.

CUT FIVE WITH RAZOR.

Mamie Garfield, Negress, Ran Amuck in "Dross Neck" Tuesday Night.

Mamie Garfield, the negress who ran amuck with a razor in "Dross Neck" Tuesday night, was given a preliminary trial in Justice Fowler's court yesterday and held for the Superior Court in default of $100 bond. The evidence was to the effect that Mamie was fightin' drunk and went into Chapman's bar, at Second and Brunswick streets, with a "razzer" concealed under her apron. She was after Bertha Bomen, whom she found in the bar and whom she straightway proceeded to carve. Having slashed Bertha to her heart's content, without any evident provocation she turned upon Carrie Stewart, who was also "among those present," and slashed up Carrie's arms in true Filipino style. She next turned her attention to Betsie Mills, who made up the fourth member of the party. Betsie was slashed in the side. The Garfield woman then got mixed up in the razor herself and before she could extricate herself she, two, received several ugly gashes. In the meantime Mr. Chapman the proprietor of the place, came from behind the counter to quiet the tumult. He received a slight cut on the finger. The woman is held under the double charge of carrying a concealed weapon and an assault with a deadly weapon.

Three Assaulted Her.

Lottie Wilson, a colored woman, came to the City Hall last night and reported that she had gone to the house of three other colored women near Twelfth and Princess streets about an hour before, and had been violently assaulted by those whom she expected to welcome her. One of them, she said, struck her on the head with an empty whisky bottle; another struck her with a broom and the third by word and action aided and abetted the others in making the assault upon her. She had an ugly scalp wound, which bled profusely. It was dressed by Dr. C. T. Harper, city superintendent of health. Justice Bornemann had warrants issued for the arrest of the assailants of the Nixon woman.

Enlarging Their Facilites.

Messrs. I. M. Bear & Co., have leased from Mr. I. Shrier, the building next south of their handsome store at southwest corner of Front and Grace streets. The building has two commodious store rooms on the first floor with additional room on the second floor. The building is being remodelled to meet the requirements of Messrs. Bear & Co., and will give them two floors of an additional building about 40x100 feet in size.

Audit and Finance Board.

The postponed regular monthly meeting of the Board of Audit and Finance was held last night but only routine business was transacted. All members were present except Chairman H. C. McQueen, and Mr. C. W. Yates presided in his stead. Coupons amounting to $16,065 which were due and paid July 1st, were burned by the Board. The usual bills for current expenses were examined and approved.

CIVIL SUITS WAITING.

Criminal Matters in Superior Court Still Holding All Else in Abeyance.

PROCEEDINGS YESTERDAY.

No Cases of Importance Tried—Contempt Rule Will be Heard This Morning. The Restaurant Shooting and its Result—Grand Jury.

Practically all of yesterday afternoon's session of the Superior Court was taken up with the trial of Eugene Ellington, the colored waiter at The Only Restaurant, who shot and came near fatally wounding Charles Jackson, a negro cook in the same establishment, about a month ago. Ellington was tried not only for the assault, but also for carrying a concealed weapon, it having been developed from the solicitor's cross examination of the defendant in the first trial that the negro had brought the pistol up from Wrightsville Beach some time before the shooting, in an inside pocket of his coat. Brooke G. Empie, Esq., appeared for Ellington, while Marsden Bellamy, Esq., assisted the solicitor with the prosecution. Mr. Empie entered a plea of self defence for his client and introduced a number of witnesses to show that at the time of the shooting the cook was advancing on the waiter with a knife. On the other hand, the State showed by Ellington's own testimony on the stand that he snapped the pistol once at Jackson after the knife had dropped from his hand. That in itself, counsel for the prosecution argued, would constitute an assault with a deadly weapon. Each side made a strong presentation to the jury and following Judge Moore's charge, the jury retired to make up its verdict, remaining out until after the trial and conviction of the negro in the case of carrying concealed weapons. The verdict was not guilty of the assault with a deadly weapon, sustaining the plea of self defence. The jury in the case of carrying concealed weapons was out but a few minutes, returning a verdict of guilty. Judge Moore will pass sentence upon Ellington in the latter case this morning.

It now seems probable that all of to-day will be required to clear the docket of criminal matters, though all the jail cases of record had been disposed of yesterday afternoon.

The grand jury spent the afternoon at the convict camp at Castle Haynes yesterday and will probably make report to the court during to-day. This morning, first thing, the contempt rule against P. W. Young will be heard. Upon its determination Judge Moore will also pass judgment as to the conviction of the same defendant for simple assault day before yesterday.

Just before recess yesterday evening Judge Moore heard an argument by Hubert McClammy and Marsden Bellamy, Esqs., counsel for a negro named Zimmerman, who is charged with selling liquor without city license. They contend that the city has no right to impose a penalty under its charter, and that any law touching the case must conform to the State law. The case will probably be taken up again to-day after trial of the Young case.

Court met at 9:30 A. M. as usual and the sheriff returned 14 of the 24 talesmen ordered for the day. Capt. H. C. Twining and Mr. N. Jacobi were excused by the court. Wade Chesnut, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon, pleaded guilty and was let off with the costs, after which the case of George Atmore Herring, charged with the larceny of some clothes from a locker belonging to Charles Gadsen, was resumed. The defendant was found not guilty of larceny but guilty of receiving. Later he was sentenced to the roads for one year.

Will Herring, alias "Son" Herring, charged with larceny, was found not guilty.

Lizzie Griffin, the colored girl convicted of the larceny of money from a trunk at the residence of Mr. Sprinkler, was sentenced to one year in jail with leave to the Commissioners to hire out and pay costs.

Howard Perkins, the negro convicted of shooting Owen Meredith in "Dross Neck" Saturday night a week ago, was sentenced to eight months on the roads. Judgment was suspended in the case against Perkins for carrying concealed weapons.

John Hutson, the negro convicted of an assault upon another negro, but found not guilty of resisting Officer Harvey Cox, was sentenced to four months on the road.

Delaware Sidbury plead guilty to two counts of larceny. He was fined $35 and costs in one case and judgment was suspended in the other.

Parson Thomas, the negro charged with an assault with a deadly weapon and who violated Judge Moore's confidence at the last term of court by not returning with the costs which he was sent after, was called up again, having been captured by the police. He was given three months on the roads and incidentally scored by the judge for his conduct at the previous term.

George Blount, colored, charged with perjury in a case against himself at the last term of court, was given trial and found not guilty.

A divorce was granted Sudie Littleton from her husband, E. J. Littleton, on the grounds of abandonment, Woodus Kellum, Esq., appearing for the plaintiff.

Civil suits of R. W. Hicks vs. H. C. Healy and R. W. Hicks vs. W. W. Blair were continued by consent and set for trial at the next term, the first civil cases tried.

POLICEMAN IN TROUBLE.

Officer G. S. Phillips Arrested for Drunkenness—Trial in Mayor's Court and Investigation to Follow.

Policeman G. S. Phillips, who has been on sick leave for about 15 days with the exception of a few days service about a week ago, was arrested at Sixth and Church streets shortly after 7 o'clock last night by Policeman Leon George and is held at the station house to await trial before the Mayor to-day at noon upon a charge of drunkenness. A short time before his arrest at Sixth and Church, the condition of the officer down town had occasioned some comment and Mayor Springer had ordered the patrol wagon sent for him when a telephone message to headquarters from a citizen in the neighborhood of Sixth and Church stated that Mr. Phillips was on the sidewalk there in an unbecoming condition. He had on his uniform when the wagon arrived and was immediately carried down to the station and deprived of his accoutrements.

The condition of the officer attracted some attention earlier in the evening near Front and Market streets. Policeman A. D. Smith, one of the best and most conservative men on the force, was on his way to headquarters to report for night duty. He saw Officer Phillips standing by a telegraph pole in front of Alderman Behrends' store in an apparently dazed condition. Knowing that he had been on sick leave for several weeks, Mr. Smith approached Mr Phillips and asked him what was the matter. The latter replied that he was sick and wanted to go home. Mr. Smith had a well-confirmed suspicion that the man was under the influence of liquor and first telephoned to the City Hall for instructions. Acting Chief Williams was not in at the time and receiving no instructions, he thought best, while not shielding his fellow officer, to get him off the street as soon as possible as a crowd had collected. He accordingly put him on a car and started him home. Officer Smith knew nothing of the nuisance that his fellow officer had been guilty of before he came up. In the meantime, persons began to report the occurrence to the Mayor and the order for Mr. Phillips' arrest quickly followed. The patrol wagon was being hitched up to go in search of the officer when the call came from Sixth and Church. An investigation by the Police Committee will follow the trial of Officer Phillips in the Mayor's court to-day at noon.

VENERABLE DUPLIN MAN DEAD.

Mr. Jno. W. Carr Passed Away at Wallace Tuesday—Funeral Yesterday.

Rev. R. M. Williams, evangelist of Wilmington Presbytery, was called home to Wallace from Presbytery at Clarkton yesterday to officiate at the funeral of Mr. Jno. W. Carr, one of the oldest and most highly esteemed citizens of Duplin county, who passed away in the 83rd year of his age at his home in Wallace Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. For many years he was a ruling elder of the Presbyterian church and was a tower of strength in the religious life of his community. His passing away is deeply deplored by a great many friends. Mr. Carr was the oldest of eight children and a remarkable fact about the generation is that until the death of a brother, Mr. Jos. W. Carr, about two years ago, there had not been a death in the immediate family for more than sixty years.

Mr. Carr leaves to mourn their loss four brothers and two sisters, County Commissioner J. D. Carr, Messrs. G. B., B. J. and D. T. Carr, Mrs. Dollie E. Wells and Mrs. M. A. Newton; also three daughters and one son, Mrs. J. G. Southerland, Mrs. H. E. Forlaw, Miss Maggie Carr and L. B. Carr.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. Mr. Williams yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the presence of a large gathering of friends and the remains were laid to rest in Rokefish cemetery, one mile from Wallace. Rev. W. P. M. Currie, pastor of the Wallace church, found it impossible to be present at the funeral on account of his ordination as pastor of the church by the Presbytery at Clarkton.

Importing Italian Laborers.

Twenty-eight Italians arrived yesterday from New York to work at the Cape Fear Fisheries at Old Brunswick, down the river. They were imported by Capt. J. F. Bussells, manager of the company, who found it impossible to get at all times an efficient supply of negro labor. The Italians were met here yesterday by Capt. Bussells and were taken immediately down to the factory. Only one of them was able to speak English.

PROLONG DROUGHT.

Weather Conditions As to Moisture Are Almost Unprecedented in This Section.

REPORTS FROM GEORGIA.

Mills Shutting Down for Lack of Water Supply—Railroad Men Experiencing Trouble With Tanks Along the Route—Truck Plants.

While there is comparatively little vegetation at this season of the year to suffer from the lack of moisture, there is general complaint of a prolonged drought throughout all this section. The conditions just now appear to be almost unprecedented. No rain of consequence has fallen in more than six weeks and springs, wells and creeks in the country are drying up. In South Carolina and Georgia a number of cotton mills which depend for their power upon the rivers along which they are located are being compelled to shut down, and several towns and cities in the up-country report that the water works supply is seriously threatened. In several towns in Georgia the water works companies are impressing upon their patrons the necessity of confining their consumption to actual necessities. The insufficiency of water supply along the Atlantic Coast Line is being discussed by trainmen all along the system. They say they are being put to serious inconvenience because of the scarcity of water for the locomotives. Water tanks are stationed along the railroad, and these are in most cases furnished from small near-by streams. The streams in some cases have completely dried up, and in others are so low that the supply is far below the needs.

In one or two localities around Wilmington people are complaining of the drying up of their wells and talk in all seriousness of a water famine. All growing truck crops that need the moisture are being watered artificially and where that precaution has not been taken the plants have fired up to a degree which means almost ruin. Streams in the vicinity of Wilmington are dry that were never known to go dry before. In the country cotton is nearly all open and farmers are enjoying an excellent opportunity to gather it while the drought is on. The scarcity of labor, however, has counteracted nearly all the beneficial results of the dry weather, the farmers say, and many fields not a hundred miles from Wilmington have not been picked over once this season.

Some relief from the drought was promised in the Florida storm, forecasted two days ago, but thus far the storm has not materialized, though the warnings were continued last night.

The Monk Suit.

Ex-Judge E. K. Bryan and other attorneys for the city in the celebrated Monk suit were naturally jubilant yesterday at the decision of the Supreme Court, giving them a new trial in the case. Judge Bryan telegraphed to Raleigh yesterday morning to get a fuller report on the decision and found that the new trial was granted on the ground that the trial judge erred in not charging the jury as prayed by the defendant that the fence enclosing the grounds claimed by Monk at one time was not an enclosure as contemplated in law for the reason that it did not extend around the premises, the creek on the west being taken as a barrier for one side of the enclosure.

Jefferson Lodge K. of P.

Last night at the regular meeting of Jefferson Lodge No. 61, K. of P., Deputy Grand Chancellor Jas. H. Taylor assisted by Acting Grand Vice Chancellor Anson Alligood, Acting Grand Prelate W. O. Page and Acting Grand Master at Arms J. C. Morrison installed the following officers whose election was made necessary by the resignation of Vice Chancellor W. W. Roberts: Vice Chancellor, G. W. Branch; Prelate, L. B. Rogers, vice G. W. Branch, promoted; Master at Arms, J. M. Ward, vice L. B. Rogers, promoted; Inner Guard, W. R. Taylor, vice J. M. Ward, promoted, and Outer Guard, R. L. Leonard, vice W. R. Taylor, promoted.

Presbytery at Clarkton.

Rev. R. M. Williams, who is in the city returning to Clarkton from Wallace, says that the sessions of Wilmington Presbytery at Clarkton are being well attended and that much good work is being done. Increased interest is added to the meeting there from the fact that at Clarkton is situated one of the largest and most thriving of the Presbyterial academies. The Presbytery will probably adjourn Friday.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

— Mr. George Catlett is at home from Raleigh for a few days.

— Miss Lucile Banck left yesterday to attend the State Fair.

— Among yesterday's arrivals was H. L. Stevens, Esq., of Warsaw.

— Among yesterday's visitors to the city was Mr. J. W. Westbrook, of Hampstead, N. C.

— Mrs. S. K. DeVaney returned yesterday from a month's visit to friends in Florence, S. C.

— Mrs. Rosa Grant, of Atlanta, is the guest of her brother, Mr. T. H. Thompson, North Seventh street.

— Mrs. G. F. Croom, after a long and severe attack of fever, has returned to her home, 317 Harnett street, and resumed her profession as a trained nurse.

— Mr. G. F. Jenkins, representing the Forsyth Chair Company, of Winston-Salem, is in the city calling on the trade. He has many Wilmington friends who are always glad to see him.

CHIVALRY NEARLY COST LIFE.

Young Stuart Pemberton, of Fayetteville, Run Over by an Automobile.

[Special Star Telegram.]

ST. LOUIS, MO., Oct. 19.—The Southern chivalry of Stuart Pemberton, seventeen years old, of Fayetteville, N.C., nearly cost him his life at the World's Fair to day. He was standing near the boiler house, adjoining Machinery Hall, when he saw a woman trip and fall over a low wire near the curbing. He sprang to her assistance and bowed as she thanked him. In bowing and stepping backwards he did not notice a big approaching automobile. One of the automobile wheels passed over the young man's groin and a hind wheel passed over his legs below the knees. His condition generally indicated that he was internally injured. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital.

MARRIED ON WEDNESDAY.

Mr. W. L. Byrd, of Rose Hill, Weds Miss Mamie E. Johnston, of Willard.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

WILLARD, N. C., Oct. 19.—On Wednesday at high noon at the home of the bride's parents near Willard, N. C., a very pretty and impressive marriage ceremony was performed when Mr. W. L. Byrd led to the hymeneal altar Miss Mamie E. Johnston. The parlor of the home was tastefully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. After the guests had assembled the bridal party entered the room. First came the maid of honor, Miss Alice Johnston, sister of the bride, with Mr. Jas. Johnston, best man. They were followed by the bride, becomingly attired in a handsome gown of white silk mulle and carrying a bouquet of bride's roses and maiden hair ferns, leaning on the arm of her betrothed. They were followed in turn by the bridesmaids and groomsmen—Miss Hattie Farrow with Mr. Robt. Johnson, Miss Evelyn Powers with Mr. W. D. Wells, Miss Lillie Belle Byrd with Mr. Nick Southerland and Miss Sarah Wells with Mr. Frank Byrd.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids were attired in white organdie and carried bouquets of white carnations and maiden hair ferns. The groomsmen wore the conventional black with boutonieres of white carnations. As the party stood around the improvised altar the Rev. Mr. Martin read the beautiful marriage service of the Methodist church.

Immediately after the ceremony the guests assembled in the spacious dining room of the home where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served.

After receiving the congratulations and well wishes of their many friends the happy young couple left for their future home at Rose Hill, N. C.

The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. E. M. Johnston, a prosperous merchant and farmer of Willard, and is loved and admired by a wide circle of friends, while the groom is a prominent young business man of Rose Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Byrd will be at home after Oct. 20th, at Rose Hill.

FIRE DEPARTMENT RECORD.

Alarms Responded to Yesterday in Which Damage Was Trifling.

Following is the record of fires with the Wilmington Department yesterday:

12:20 P. M.—Box 43, No. 211 Latimer's alley, owned by Chadbourn Lumber Company, occupied by Helen Swinson, colored; defective flue; damage trifling.

2:10 P. M.—Telephone alarm; No. 916 South Fourth; owned and occupied by Benj. Blount; sparks from chimney; damage trifling.

First Baptist Revival.

The revival meetings being conducted by Pastor Fred D. Hale and Rev. Wm. Lunsford, D. D., of Asheville, at the First Baptist church are being attended by large congregations and much good is being done. Services are held during the week at 3:30 and 8 P. M. and the public is most cordially invited. Last night there were two accessions to the church membership and a number of others manifested an interest in their spiritual welfare. The ordinance of baptism will be administered each night during the week when there are candidates.

To City Subscribers.

City subscribers are earnestly requested to report promptly at the STAR office every failure of the carriers to deliver their papers. Under a new system we have adopted we are confident a much more satisfactory city delivery will result provided subscribers will report, either in person or by postal card, every case of negligence on the part of carriers.

HOW ROOSEVELT KILLED HIS MAN.

Says the Washington Post:

"The short, sharp and decisive war of 1898 between the United States and Spain not only changed the destinies of nations, but was an equally potential factor in the fortunes of individuals. For example, it placed Lieut. Col. Roosevelt on the path that led to the Presidency."

Wars generally bring smallpox and worse. The aim of the American people in whipping Spain out of the western hemisphere was to put an end to despotism upon our southern border and establish the liberty of a neighboring people. The main purpose was to strike one more blow for freedom on the American continent, but the innocent bystanders 7,000 miles away in the Philippines got hit because the Republican party did not share the noble aspirations of the American people in going to war. Avarice took the place of glory at the finish, and the G. O. P. was controlled in the settlement by driving a bargain for unwilling Filipinos and a string of Asiatic islands. The act of the Republican party in buying the Filipinos at $2.50 a head violated the very principle for which the American people fought with the intention to confer its blessings upon the Cubans.

However, that was not all we got out of the Spanish war Pandora's box. Out of it came Roosevelt, and he had to land in the Presidency! He will go down in history as the writer who villified his predecessors in that distinguished office and as the man who boasts of killing his man. Many a soldier who has killed his fellow man in battle has shuddered at the thought of it, and we know many who had to put more than one opponent out of business but who can't bear mention of it. Not so with Roosevelt. See how he boastfully tells in one of his books about how he poked it to a Spaniard as he turned to go to the tall timber. In the latest issue of Col. William J. Bryan's Commoner we find the following:

"Those who feel disposed to defend President Roosevelt from the charge of boasting of killing a fleeing Spaniard will cease to defend when they read the deliberate report of the transaction published by the President in his book entitled "The Rough Riders' (page 138): 'Lieut. Davis' first sergeant, Clarence Gould, killed a Spanish soldier with his revolver, just as the Spaniard was aiming at one of my Rough Riders. About the same time I also shot one. I was with Henry Bardshar, running up at the double, and two Spaniards leaped from the trenches and fired at us, not ten yards away. As they turned to run I closed in and fired twice, missing the first and killing the second. At the time I did not know of Gould's exploit and supposed by feat to be unique.'

'Yes, it is a unique feat to kill a fleeing soldier, and more unique still to speak of it with levity and boasting. The taking of human life is an awful responsibility, and however the customs of war may justify it when necessary, who but a military enthusiast would speak of it as the President does?"

The Washington Post makes this comment on the above:

"The Post cannot deny the pertinency of Mr. Bryan's criticism upon that extract from 'The Rough Riders.' The tragic incident recounted, not less than the tone of the narration, grates harshly upon the average reader's sensibilities."

Roosevelt tells about putting the Spaniard's light out with the same gusto that he would in telling about shooting a bear. And this Roosevelt is President of the United States!

It is quite appropriate that the hand of an assassin should put a man like that into the President's chair.

HOW WE APPLES SWIM.

It has not been so many moon's since Republican newspapers were declaring that the Democratic party was populistic in its tendances. Now we behold the Republican party organs lauding the Populist candidate for Pesident and using him and his party for all they are worth to Roosevelt. The Populist candidate and the Populist party are allowing the Republican party to use them to their advantage, all of which is understood by men who are not accustomed to too much lope. The Republican party is willing to do anything to win and the so called Populist party is willing for the G. O. P. to do it. "How we apple swim."

IN FOR THE FINISH.

Get your backbone knit together firmly. The reports are that Judge Parker will carry New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana and Illinois. It is not necessary to mention also that several Western States are likely to go for Parker. It will take the election to convince the militant Democracy that Judge Parker is not to be the next President of the United States.

We have nailed the Parker banner to the masthead, and it is going to stay there till the vote is counted. Even a landslide for Parker wouldn't knock us off our pins.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— Fate has decreed that the Czar should suffer the worst defeat in sanguinary conflict since he conceived the idea of a peace tribunal at The Hague.—Baltimore Sun.

—— Wisconsin's enthusiasm for the national ticket is demonstrated by the presence of only twenty-one persons, including women, at Plattsville, one of the manufacturing centers where Speaker Cannon spoke.—Chattanooga Times.

— And speaking of the reduction of armaments and the promotion of the cause of universal peace, it is to be noted that two more battle-ships, a gunboat, and two training ships will be launched this month under our government's auspices.—Boston Herald.

—— Lo! the poor Indian is now manufacturing bogus cliff-dwellers' pottery to deceive unwary Americans. Even the resistent nature of the red man is beginning to give way before the advantages of the higher civilization. — Baltimore American.

—— Despite much interesting discussion on the subject of divorce recently the matter remains just where it was before the Roman Catholic Church and the State of South Carolina only have had the courage to solve the problem as it should be solved.—Charleston News & Courier.

—— Mr. Roosevelt would have us believe that his Panama Coup was justified by the interests of "collective civilization," which is merely another way of saying that on general principles a weak State has no right that a strong State is bound to respect. — Charleston News and Courier.

—— The Richmond News-Leader thinks that city is to be congratulated on the fact it did not accept the Carnegie proposition to establish a library in that city. It says that several cases have shown up in which the contact has proven a handicap, as the cost of keeping up the libraries in a number of cities has been at the expense or the schools, water supply and street improvement. Mr. Carnegie's philanthropic intentions were good, but the practical result of his scheme has in many instances added to the burden of taxation.—Columbia Record.

Joy and Sorrow.

Joy, they say, is a sensation similar to sorrow. It merely hurts along lines that we enjoy. We go to the theater, weep over a teary play and are delightfully sad. Some people's greatest joy lies in being sad.

What a remarkably interesting study must humanity be to the scientists of the lower kingdom!—San Francisco Bulletin.

Red Pepper For Ants.

A small boy who lived with his aunt and grandma noticed that the regular black pepper shaker was filled with red pepper. This startled him, and, turning to his aunt, who sat next at the table, he said: "You better not eat any of that red pepper, Aunt Harriet. Grandma says that red pepper kills ants."—Christian Intelligencer.

TWINKLINGS.

— He—Don't you think you could learn to love me? She—I doubt if you have enough money to pay for my education.—Boston Globe.

— Jack—So she is very cold. Must be a regular Boston girl. Tom—Worse than that. She is a regular Fairbanks girl.—Chicago News.

— "I never sold a vote in my life," said the colored campaigner. "You never?" "No, suh! But I don't min' of a candidate pays my house rent and settles de grocery bill!"—Atlanta Constitution.

— Kurdsen—How does sour milk strike you as an elixir of life? Whay—Huh! I used to like it as a drink, but now that they say it is a medicine I can't bear it.—Chicago Tribune.

— Nordy—Married life has a recompense for its every drawback. Butte—For instance? Nordy—Well if you happen to lose the coal money playing poker, your wife will generally make it hot enough for you.—Houston Chronicle.

— "Young man," whispered the old spell binder, "there are some things about this campaign that will take your breath away." "You don't say!" responded the young man. "Are you alluding to the campaign cigar?"—Chicago Sun.

— Dreamer—My wife and I always pass upon and decide our household questions quite as seriously as we were voting upon national issues. Henpeck—Well, whenever my wife and I pull off an election like that she always wins by one vote.—Philadelphia Press.

— Political boss to candidate—You're the stubbornest man I ever knew! You ask my advice on everything and then you go right off and do the opposite. Candidate—Yes; you see, I want to know what to do. So by going just exactly opposite to your advice I know I'm always on the right track.—Detroit Free Press.

— A special from Concord on Tuesday says: To-day, eight miles from here, at Mt. Pleasant, Gov. Aycock faced more than 2,000 people for an hour and a half speech. Never was the governor stronger and bolder than to-day when he reviewed his administration and compared it with that of his predecessor. The crowd endorsed his words and cheered repeatedly the eloquent Aycock. The speech was a characteristic one, and as bold and straightforward as the man can make it. A big dinner followed the speaking. On the Governor's arrival here a splendid trade and political parade escorted him through the town and to the stand on the college campus.

Saves Two from Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— The Hon. R. B. Glenn spoke to 1,000 people at Fayetteville on Tuesday.

— At Winston-Salem on Tuesday, Albert Clement, an industrious colored man, was knocked down by a box-car and killed on the yard of the Southern Railway.

—Salisbury Sun: It is interesting to hear that the Socialists will have a ticket in this State. It will be many a long year, however, before socialism gets a hold on North Carolina.

— The Hon. John Y. Jordan, one of the Democratic spellbinders at Asheville, has challenged the Hon. Tom Settle, Republican, to engage in a joint debate of political issues before the people of Buncombe county.

— The forty-fourth annual State fair opened at Raleigh on Tuesday. The weather was fine, and the opening was auspicious. There is a fine display of manufactures, farm and mine products, and the fair promises to be the biggest ever held. There was a big crowd at the opening.

— Greensboro Record: The Raleigh Evening Times pays Major Stedman a deserved compliment when in speaking of the late Senator Ransom it says "there is but one man in public life in North Carolina to-day that resembles Gen. Ransom in that respect, and that is Major Charles M. Stedman, of Greensboro."

— Salisbury Sun: The dream for more than three decades of the descendants of Rowan county Confederate Veterans has been the dedication of a monument in Salisbury to the heroes in gray—living and dead—of this county. The dream was realized when the magnificent monument designed two years ago arrived in Salisbury Saturday afternoon from Paris.

—Salisbury Sun: Mr. Nelson Taylor, of Salisbury, who returned last week to Cornell, where he has been prosecuting his chosen work, has been appointed assistant instructor in chemistry—analytical and organic—for the university year at Cornell. This is an exceptional compliment and Mr. Taylor, who is a son of Capt. and Mrs. W. S. Taylor, is to be congratulated on this recognition of his splendid talent.

— A dispatch from Asheville on Tuesday says: Judge Pritchard has wired the war department requesting that the body of his son Lieut. W. D. Pritchard, who yesterday killed a fellow officer and then committed suicide, be shipped to Asheville. The request will be complied with and the remains started on the long voyage at once. Judge Pritchard was visited last evening by nearly all the local members of the bar, who extended condolence.

— Raleigh News and Observer: In reporting that the Supreme Court had denied the motion of the State for a re-hearing in the South Dakota bond case, the Associated Press account added: "The decision has the effect of validating other North Carolina bonds of similar character." In this the usually correct Associated Press is in error. The only effect of that decision is to order the sale of the ten bonds, or whatever interest South Dakota holds in them, and does not validate any other of the bonds.

— Greensboro Telegram: Our white visitors of last night displayed a most thoughtless disregard of the feelings of Southern people in attempting to have their colored comrades received in a hotel here on the same footing with themselves. We attribute their course in the matter to thoughtlessness for we are unwilling to believe that they would have intentionally brought about the disagreeable situation which resulted. And, letting it go as thoughtlessness, the incident shows that the visitors were painfully lacking in both discernment and delicacy of feeling.

Prodigality of Life in Ancient Egypt.

The reckless prodigality with which in ancient Egypt the upper classes squandered away the labor and lives of the people is perfectly startling. In this respect, as the monuments yet remaining abundantly prove, they stand alone and without a rival. We may form some idea of the almost incredible waste when we hear that 2,000 men were occupied for three years in carrying a single stone from Elephantine to Sais, that the canal of the Red sea alone cost the lives of 120,000 Egyptians and that to build one of the pyramids required the labor of 360,000 men for twenty years.

A Remarkable River In Spain.

There is in Spain a river called the Tinto, which has very extraordinary qualities. Its waters, which are as yellow as a topaz, harden the sand and petrify it in a most surprising manner. If a stone falls into the river and rests upon another they both become perfectly united and conglutinated in a year. It withers all the plants on its banks as well as the roots of trees, which it dyes of the same hue as its waters. No fish live in its stream.

She Guessed Right.

"Did the spiritualistic medium tell you anything that was true?" asked the willing believer eagerly.

"Oh, yes," replied the hard headed individual.

"And that was"—

"That I spent my money foolishly, which was right. You see, I had paid to hear her tell me that."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Delightful Prospect.

"Do you," said the learned counsel, "swear that you will tell the truth, the whole truth and"—

"Oh, how lovely!" the fair witness interrupted. "Shall I really be allowed to talk all the afternoon if I want to?"—Tit-Bits.

Good money is faithless. It leaves us almost as soon as we get it. Bad money, however, sticks by us to the bitter end.—Baltimore American.

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Oct 19.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 2@5 points or just about as due on the cables. At first the market showed firmness, with some demand from the parties concerned in yesterday's advance and through wire houses with southwestern connections. Liverpool rallied after the local opening and here advanced to a net gain of about five to six points. A little later, however, private advices from the South, telling of rather unsettled conditions in the interior spot markets encouraged the bears, while it was also considered that the barometer lines indicated the approach of warm weather, and prices began to work downward. They did not display particularly striking weakness but during the balance of the session were barely rallied and at the close were within a point or so of the lowest at a net loss of about seven to ten points, or a decline from the best of the morning of practically fifteen points. Sales were estimated at only 200,000 bales, representing almost entirely professional operations.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Cotton was quiet at 10.05c, net receipts — bales; gross receipts 6,637 bales; stock 60,838 bales.

Spot cotton closed quiet at ten points decline; middling uplands 10.05c; middling gulf 10.55c; sales 533 bales.

Must Believe It.

When Well-known Wilmington People Tell It So Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Wilmington the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

B. R. King, the well-known policeman, residing at 706 Wooster street, says: "I had terrible pain in my back worked around to my side and in my stomach, so bad at times that it laid me up. I used internal medicines and they did not help me. I put on plasters and rubbed with liniment, and none of them helped me at all. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills recommended I got a box of them at Bellamy's drug store. The next day after commencing to use them I noticed relief. Since using two boxes of them I have not had an ache or a pain in my back. It is with pleasure that I add my name to those endorsing the claims made for this remedy."

CHOOSE FOR YOURSELF

In a piece of literature now being disseminated by the National Democratic Committee two widely different word pictures are presented, giving estimates of the general make-up of the two Presidential candidates.

With the suggestion in bold type:

the document quotes from ex-Governor Black's speech nominating Mr. Roosevelt at the Republican convention, June 23, 1904:

"Men may prophesy and women pray, but peace will come here to abide forever on this earth only when the dreams of childhood are the accepted charts to guide the destinies of men. Events are numberless and mighty, and no one can tell which wire runs around the world. The nation basking to-day in the quiet of contentment and repose may still be on the deadly circuit, and to-morrow writhing in the toils of war. * * * Only the man with steady eye and nerve and the courage to pull the trigger brings the largest opportunities to the ground."

This is followed by "Roosevelt's Endorsement," from the New York Times, May 20, 1904, as follows: "Washington, May 19.—The speech which Mr. Root is to make as temporary chairman, the speech which ex-Governor Black is to make in placing the President in nomination, and the various planks of the platform, which is to be shaped by Senator Lodge, all have been considered and disposed of to the satisfaction of the President and his advisers."

Taking a flashing glimpse at Judge Parker, and with special reference to the suggestion to "Look here, upon this picture," on the other side, the reverse suggests:

'AND ON THIS!"

the document quotes from the speech of Hon. Martin W. Littleton, nominating Judge Parker, before Democratic Convention, July 8, 1904:

"The country called upon New York for a man to fit this, the critical hour and place in our national life, and New York answers with a man who puts against the strenuous sword play of a swaggering administration, a simple faith in all the perfect power of the Constitution; a man who puts against executive usurpation a knowledge of and a deep love for the poise and balance of its three great powers; a man who puts against the stealthy hunt with 'the big stick' a faithful observance of constitutional restraints."

This is followed by "Judge Parker's Endorsement," from his speech of acceptance, Aug. 10, 1904:

"The most efficient work we can do in uplifting the people of other countries is by the presentation of a happy, prosperous, self-governing nation as an ideal to be emulated, a model to be followed. The general occupation of our citizens in the arts of peace, or the absence of large military armaments, tends to impair neither patriotism nor physical courage."

CARL SCHURZ IN DEMAND.

The Venerable German-American Statesman Earnest for the Democratic Ticket.

German-American voters in all parts of the country are eagerly awaiting the appearance of Carl Schurz on the stump. Germany has given to this country many able and distinguished men, but Carl Schurz is the most famous of all. As a political guide he is careful and courageous, not because he belongs to any party, but because when he announces his course in a political crisis, every citizen who knows the record of American politics, knows that he does so because, as a statesman of intelligence and conviction, he believes that course will be the better one for the welfare of the nation.

Mr. Schurz will be of great service to the Democracy in New York, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Indiana and Illinois States, which owe their greatness in large measure to the enterprise and loyalty of German-Americans. In each of these States "a blast from out his bugle-horn were worth ten thousand men."

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES.

Enthusiastic Democrats are deriving considerable pleasure in figuring over the recent Democratic gain in Maine. The returns show a Democratic gain of 30 per cent. and a Republican gain of 15 per cent. over the vote of 1902. Similar changes elsewhere would give New York to Parker by a plurality of 87,000, New Jersey by 5,000, Rhode Island by 6,000, Maryland by 32,000, Nebraska by 8,000 and Utah by 300. These, with the States carried by Bryan in 1900, would be exactly enough to elect. In addition, Delaware, West Virginia and Indiana would be in doubt if these percentages of gain were to prevail.

WEST VIRGINIA ALL RIGHT.

Gen. J. W. St. Clair, of West Virginia, at the Waldorf to-day, had this to say about his State: "West Virginia will surely cast her electoral vote for Parker and Davis."

Browning's Maid.

Browning had a maid in his service who had a gift for saying quaint things. When the poet was going to pay the last mark of respect to George Henry Lewes, she said she "didn't see the good of catching cold at other people's funerals." And once, when he was away on a holiday and a journalist came to the door to inquire if it was true that the poet was dead, she indignantly answered, "I have not heard so, and I am sure my master is not the kind of a man to do such a thing without letting us know."

Testimony of a Minister.

Rev. Jno. S. Cox, of Wake, Ark., writes: "For twelve years I suffered from yellow jaundice. I consulted a number of physicians and tried all sorts of medicines, but got no relief. Then I began the use of Electric Bitters, and feel that I am now cured of a disease that had me in its grasp for twelve years." If you want a reliable medicine for Liver and Kidney trouble, stomach disorder or general debility, get Electric Bitters. It is guaranteed by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. Only 50c. †

CLASS DISTINCTIONS.

They Go Almost Down to the Very Bottom of Society.

Some sort of class feeling is, we believe, inherent in human nature. People often speak as though these demarcations existed only among the middle and upper classes, but such is not the fact. Indeed it is very far from the fact. No more misleading labels than "the classes" and "the masses" were ever invented. There are no masses, rightly speaking. Class distinctions go almost down to the bottom—not quite, of course, because there is always a residuum who through their fault or their misfortune have neither the pride nor the imagination to sort themselves.

Money is not an absolute criterion of social position. Character, in so far as it is reflected in propriety of behavior, counts for a great deal. A rowdy family sink directly, though they may have money to waste, and a respectable widow may retain her superiority in the face of grinding poverty. The acme of good manners, the very badge of gentility, is to be "quiet," never to let the sound of mirth, quarreling or lamentation proceed out of your dwelling.

This sign of social distinction is appreciated down to the very bottom. On the upper rungs of the social ladder we should say that those social distinctions which can be defined at all rest upon birth, money and brains. Among the poor they rest upon money and manners, and the latter, alas, are, below a certain wage, woefully dependent upon the former.—Spectator.

Jonah and the Whale.

There is nothing in the original texts of the Bible to show that the creature which we are told swallowed Jonah was really the same animal we call a "whale" in this day and age of the world. The word translated into both the Septuagint and the New Testament was the Greek word "Katos," which means simply a sea monster, and this word was the one used by our Lord in his reference to the account of Jonah's exploit. So far, therefore, as the Hebrew or Greek words are concerned, the monster may have been a shark, a sea serpent or some other uncanny denizen of the deep.

Hence there is nothing incredible in the statement that Jonah, upon being thrown into the sea, was quickly overtaken by some water monster and swallowed without suffering mutilation. To Biblical students it is a well known fact that a vessel sailing from Joppa to any Spanish port must pass through a section swarming with a species of shark called a "sea dog." The sea dog has a throat large enough to swallow fair sized men.—St. Louis Republic.

UNHAPPINESS DISPELLED.

Men and Women Unanimous About It.

Many women weep and wail and refuse to be comforted because their once magnificent tresses have become thin and faded. Many men incline to profanity because the flies bite through the thin thatch on their craniums. It will be good news to the miserable of both sexes, to learn that Newbro's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antiseptic that acts by destroying the germ or microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair destruction. Herpicide is a new preparation, made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has tried it will testify as to its worth. Try it yourself and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

WINTER'S APPROACH

A day of sunshine now and then, but these frosty mornings admonish us that sable Winter is almost here. That suggests the comforts and satisfaction of one of our modern heaters. We have them this year of every shape and kind—just the one to suit. Or, perhaps, it's a cooking stove or range. We have those too, And the point we are making for them all is that they furnish an even maximum of heat with the greatest economy of fuel.

We are yours just now for stoves and ranges, but all the time for hardware and agricultural implements. Let us serve you.

THURSDAY MORNING, OCT. 20.

BRITISH SCHOONER SYANARA

Set on Fire and Abandoned Off Georgetown, S. C.—Crew Rescued by the Clyde Line Steamer Apache.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—After having been buffeted by wind and wave for seven days until only her battered hulk remained, the British schooner Syanara was set on fire and abandoned at sea October 18th, off Georgetown, S. C. Her commander, Capt. Moorehouse, and four members of the crew arrived here to-day on the Clyde Line steamer Apache, which sighted the wreck early yesterday morning and after rescuing the five men set fire to the hulk. Two other sailors had been taken from the wreck on Monday by the British steamer Barrister. The five men who arrived on the Apache at the time declined to leave the wreck in the hope of making an American port, and provisions were furnished them by the captain of the Barrister.

The Syanara left Savannah, Ga., on Tuesday, October 11th, with a load of timber for Digby, Nova Scotia, and on Wednesday began her battle with the gale which resulted first in the loss of her deck-load and finally compelled the cutting away of the three masts in order to keep the vessel righted. This was on the third day of the storm and on the fourth day, Saturday, the seas washed over the dismantled hulk, forcing the crew to take refuge on the after-house. That afternoon George Rudolph, the mate, and two seamen were torn from the wreck by a heavy sea, but after a hard struggle all were rescued. The storm began to abate on Sunday and when the Barrister was sighted the five men who arrived here to-day felt that there was a possibility of reaching an American port and declined the aid then offered.

PARKER IN NEW YORK CITY.

Guest of the Democratic Club—Many Visitors—Connecticut Politics—Democratic Prospects

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Judge Parker was the guest of honor to-night at a dinner given by State Senator Victor J. Dowling at the Democratic Club. The other guests were John B. McDonald, John Fox, Charles F. Murphy, Cord Meyer and Wm. S. Rodie.

Although the presence of the presidential candidate had not been announced, nearly the entire membership of the club and many others called during the evening. Senator Dowling presented the visitors to the judge, who spent the evening at the club house.

While Judge Parker was engaged all day in receiving political friends at his apartments, the number of callers were smaller than usual. Connecticut politics received much attention at Judge Parker's headquarters. Nearly half of the visitors were from that State. The candidate considered the prospects of the Democratic party in Connecticut and went over the various reports he has received concerning the canvass in that State. Numerous questions relating to the national campaign were discussed with Judge Parker by William F. Sheehan, Colonel Daniel S. Lamont and Thomas F. Ryan.

Other visitors to-day were General Nelson A. Miles, Representative E J. Bowers, of Mississippi, and A. Zindegraff, of Dallas, Texas.

TOBACCO TRUST MERGER.

Temporary Injunction Dissolved and Bill of Complaint Dismissed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Vice Chancellor Pitney in Jersey City to-day heard further arguments on the rule to show cause why the Consolidated, Continental and American Tobacco Companies should not be restrained from carrying out the proposed merger. After hearing the arguments of both sides Vice Chancellor Pitney dissolved the temporary injunction and dismissed the bill of complaint. On October 11th, Allan H. Strong, of counsel for the complainant, raised a question as to whether the Morton Trust Company, as trustee, really had the bonds which the promoters of the merger claimed it had. The court appointed Halsey M. Barrett, a master, to examine the bonds and to-day he handed up his report, but it was not filed.

Counsel for the promoters said that the report would show that there is on deposit with the trust company more than a majority of the $157,000,000 of bonds necessary for the directors to carry out the scheme. Mr. Strong, however, said that some of the bonds had been signed for, thereby making duplications possible. Mr. Strong contended that the only way to ascertain with correctness the amount of bonds held by the company was by furnishing the number of each bond and the bonds must have been owned by the signers of the proposed contract at the time they signed.

The court said that the best contract possible would be the depositing of a majority of the bonds.

PASSENGER TICKET AGENTS.

Association to Meet Next Year in City of Mexico—Officers Elected.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

HAMPTON, VA., Oct. 19.—The delegates to the American Association of Passenger Ticket Agents spent to-day on a sight-seeing trip over Hampton Roads, visiting every point of interest, with an oyster roast at Cape Henry.

A telegram was received from Secretary of the Navy Paul Morton this morning announcing that he would be unable to come to Old Point to address the association to-night.

At the morning session, which was held on board the steamer, the convention decided to meet in the City of Mexico next year, the date to be fixed by a committee later. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President, F. E. Boothby, general passenger agent, Michigan Central; First Vice President, O. J. Smith, general passenger agent, Lake Shore; Secretary, C. M. Burt, general passenger agent, Central of New Jersey.

A HURRICANE ON FLORIDA'S COAST.

Storm from West Indies Struck the East Coast and Caused Considerable Damage.

MANY VESSELS WERE LOST.

Several Persons Drowned, But the Crews of Most of the Vessels Wrecked Were Saved—The Hurricane Missed Key West.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MIAMI, FLA., Oct. 19.—After blowing a gale Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the storm predicted for South Florida broke over this place Sunday about nightfall. In a few hours Miami and most of the towns on the east coast of Florida were cut off from communication with the outside world. Telegraph wires were blown down and the railroad tracks were obstructed, and not until to-day was communication restored.

The wind attained a maximum velocity of seventy-five miles an hour here. A few roofs were damaged and windowpanes blown in and the buildings were damaged by rain.

In the surrounding country the fruit and vegetable crops were damaged to a considerable extent. The report from Lemon City is that the storm prevailed there with the same severity as here, and while several houses were slightly injured no serious damage resulted. Several craft along the bay front were capsized and swamped.

At Buena Vista, the residence of J. G. Truilt was blown from the pillars and several others twisted and strained. Damage to fruit and vegetation is reported.

No report has been received from Cutler and the Homestead sections, where it is feared the most damage has been done to fruit and vegetables.

The schooner Melrose, with a crew of eight and four passengers was wrecked Saturday. Just before sunset a great wave swept over the vessel, capsizing it and throwing the passengers and crew into the sea. Mrs. Hallen, one of the passengers, was lost, but the crew managed to cling to the sides of the vessel and Mr. and Mrs. Weller, two other passengers, found themselves in the water within reach of the yardarm of the foremast, when the ship righted herself, the two still clinging to the rigging. The mast, however, fell and crushed Mrs. Weller. Her lifeless body was washed overboard while Mr. Weller had both bones of his right arm broken. The schooner drifted until Monday when all were washed overboard. Mr. Weller grasped a hatch and floated ashore, landing near Palm Beach, as did the captain, mate and two colored seamen. One white man and four negroes were drowned. At present it is impossible to give their names.

The four-masted schooner James Judge, of Philadelphia, is aground four miles south of Palm Beach, having gone ashore Monday in a terrific gale, in which the wind blew from 60 to 90 miles an hour. The crew are all safe. The vessel is badly damaged. It carried no cargo.

The three-masted bark Zion, owned by A. Hemmes, of Embem, Germany, loaded with a million feet of lumber from Pensacola for London, stranded five miles north of the House of Refuge, near Fort Lauderdale, about 3 o'clock yesterday, and Capt. Hemmes and crew of fourteen men, after several hours of struggling, saved themselves with the aid of pieces of lumber and improvised rafts.

KEY WEST, FLA., Oct. 19.—The Norwegian barque Rainface, from Campeche for Europe, Captain Logwood, ran ashore yesterday on Marquesa reef during the storm. The crew was rescued by the schooner Welcome and landed on Marquesa beach safe. The tug Childs and wreckers gave assistance. The hurricane missed Key West. No damage was done here.

DAVIS' WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN

Rounded Up Last Night at Wayne, W. Va.—A Remarkable Tour—His Future Movements.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WAYNE, W. VA., Oct. 19.—Henry G. Davis ended his whirlwind campaign through West Virginia at Wayne to-night. Just how he regards the experience may be gleaned from his reference to it in addressing his audience here. He said:

"We are now concluding a trip of thirteen hundred miles which has occupied ten days. We have crossed the State three hundred miles, east and west three times, and once north and south, visiting seventy-eight cities and towns. At night, at the large places, we have had two separate meetings. The number of people in attendance at all meetings is estimated at one hundred thousand. We have gone through twenty-eight counties, being more than half of the counties of the State, containing about three-fourths of its population. Among the speakers were two United States senators and three ex-United States senators. We have been received everywhere with the most respectful attention and in most places with much enthusiasm. Wherever we had opportunity to confer with local party leaders we have heard of a number of Republicans who have announced their intention to vote the Democratic ticket. There is no dissatisfaction anywhere, so far as we have learned, among the Democrats, and all those who supported McKinley are now in line again. We believe there will be less fraud at the ballot box than heretofore, as the people seem to be determined to have a fair election. General belief among the party leaders is that the State will go Democratic."

The candidate will go to Kenova to-night, where his train will be transferred to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. To-morrow he will go to Parkersburg, where he will confer with the State leaders and attend the Bryan meeting Friday night. It is now his intention to accompany Mr. Bryan to Charleston for the meeting there Saturday night, after which he will return to his home at Elkins.

ALLEGED LYNCHERS.

Arrested at Eutawville, S. C., for Complicity in Killing of a Negro.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 19.—Penny Martin, Benjamin Martin, Adger Butler, S. G. Eaden and J. H. Palmer, of Eutawville, the last two being peace officers, were arrested to-day and lodged at the penitentiary in Columbia under suspicion of complicity in the lynching of Kitt Bookhard. The killing took place some weeks ago. Bookhard, a young negro, was taken from the jail at Eutawville, where he was serving a short sentence for a trivial offence and after mutilation was thrown into the Santee river with heavy weights attached.

DIFFERENCES WITH THE REPUBLIC OF PANAMA.

Secretary of War Taft Ordered by the President to Proceed to the Isthmus and Make Adjustment of Trouble.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The President has instructed Secretary of War Taft to proceed at an early date to Panama, to confer with the president of that republic with a view to composing the differences that have arisen between the two countries. The instructions are contained in the following letter:

"White House, Washington, D. C., October 18, 1904.—Sir: By executive order of May 9, 1904, I placed under your immediate supervision the work of the Isthmian canal commission both in the construction of the canal and in the exercise of the governmental powers as it seemed necessary for the United States to exercise under the treaty with the republic of Panama in the canal strip. There is ground for believing that in the execution of the rights conferred by the treaty the people of Panama have been unduly alarmed at the effect of the establishment of a government in the canal strip by the commission. Apparently they fear lest the effect be to create out of part of their territory a competing and independent community which shall injuriously affect their business, reduce their revenues and diminish their prestige as a nation. The United States is about to confer on people of the State of Panama very great benefit by the expenditure of millions of dollars in the construction of the canal But this fact must not blind us to the importance of so exercising the authority given us under the treaty with Panama as to avoid creating any suspicion, however unfounded, of our intentions as to the future. We have not the slightest intention of establishing an independent colony in the middle of the State of Panama or of exercising any greater governmental functions than are necessary to enable us conveniently and safely to construct, maintain and operate the canal under the rights given us by the treaty. Least of all do we desire to interfere with the business and prosperity of the people of Panama. However far a just construction of the treaty might enable us to go did the exigencies of the case require it in asserting the equivalent of sovereignty over the canal strip, it is our full intention that the rights which we exercise shall be exercised with all proper care for the honor and interests of the people of Panama. The exercise of such powers as are given us by the treaty within the geographical boundaries of the republic of Panama, may easily, if a real sympathy for both the present and future welfare of the people of Panama is not shown, create distrust of the American government. This would seriously interfere with the success of our great project in that country. It is of the most importance that those who are ultimately responsible for the policy pursued should have at first hand as trustworthy information as can be obtained in respect to the conditions existing in Panama and the attitude and real interest of the people of that State. After a conference with the secretary of state and yourself I have concluded that it will be of great advantage if you can visit the isthmus of Panama in person and hold a conference with the president and other governmental authorities of the republic of Panama. You are authorized in doing this to take with you such persons as you desire, familiar with the conditions in the isthmus, who may aid you with their counsel. The earlier you are able to make this visit the better. The secretary of state will instruct the United States minister at Panama to render you every assistance in his power, and the governor of the canal strip, General Davis, will of course do the same thing. You will advise the president of the republic what the policy of this government is to be, and assure him that it is not the purpose of the United States to take advantage of the rights conferred upon it by the treaty to interfere with the welfare and prosperity of the State of Panama or of the cities of Colon and Panama. You will make due report of your visit on your return.

"Very truly yours,

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

"To the Secretary of War."

Senor Chaldis, minister of Panama to the United States, held a conference with the secretary of state and secretary of war subsequent to the receipt of this letter and the secretary of war invited the minister to accompany him on his trip to Panama. It is impossible to say exactly when the secretary of war can leave for Panama, but probably on November 14th.

Secretary Taft will go to Panama on the army transport Sumner, from New York. The members of the Senate and House committees dealing with isthmian affairs will be invited to take the trip.

THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Attempt to Arrange a Compromise on the Divorce Issue—The Bible—Courts of Review—Bishop Potter's Report.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BOSTON, MASS., Oct. 19.—An attempt was made to-day by the committee on canons of the Episcopal House of Deputies to arrange a compromise between that body and the House of Bishops. The bishops had adopted an amendment forbidding the remarriage of divorced persons, while the deputies had declined to adopt so rigid a provision, notwithstanding the fact that a majority of them took a stand similar to that of the House of Bishops. The committee on canons offered a resolution compelling divorced persons seeking remarriage to wait one year after the decree of the court has been issued before the solemnization of the ceremony. By this resolution, which referred to the innocent person in a divorce for infidelity only, it was hoped to secure at least a temporary agreement between the two forces. After some debate the divorce issue was made a special order for to-morrow.

The deputies devoted a large part of the day to the consideration of a request from several dioceses for permission to use the revised version of the Bible in churches. When the house was divided the request was refused by a majority of both clerical and lay delegates. Dr. C. E. Gramar, of Norfolk, Va., was among those who spoke for the revised version.

The House of Deputies adopted the proposed canon establishing courts of review. The house concurred with the bishops in appointing a joint commission to consider the question of instituting a system of suffragan bishops.

In the House of Bishops, Bishop Henry C. Potter, of New York, chairman of the standing committee on the relations of capital and labor, presented a lengthy report, which touched upon certain evils the committee found, and discussed the industrial situation at great length.

A CESSATION IN WAR OPERATIONS.

Japs Report That Inactivity Has Followed Russians' Abortive Assaults Monday Night.

ARTILLERY DUEL YESTERDAY.

Believed That Kuropatkin is Seeking to Gain Time to Withdraw His Army. Russians Fortifying — Affairs at Port Arthur.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

There has been an end for the time being of the fighting on a scale which began when on October 9th General Kuropatkin announced to his army that the time had arrived for an advance against the Japanese. Heavy rains and consequent bad roads have made military operations on either side extremely difficult, but there is no light upon the movements of the Japanese.

Many critics continue to believe that General Kuropatkin intends to return to the line of the Hun river.

The movement of troops on the Russian western frontier and the preparations to further reduce garrisons in this region, revived talk of a complete understanding with Germany, under which the frontier will be protected so as to permit of the dispatch to Manchuria of troops stationed in Poland. There are about 600,000 soldiers in Poland, comprising some of the best troops in the empire. It is already known that practically all of three corps in the Vilna government will be included in General Grippenberg's army, but as these troops are included in what is known as Russia's third line of defence, the fact has not attracted much attention. It now develops that the rifle brigade at Plotsk in the government of Tschenstochova, directly on the frontier, is mobilizing. In the best informed diplomatic circles it is believed that nothing in the shape of a treaty between Russia and Germany has been committed to writing, but that there is simply a mutual personal understanding between the two sovereigns covering this point and some believe going much further.

Japanese Concentrating.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—General Sakharoff telegraphs at midday to-day that the Japanese are concentrating at Sinchinpu, west of the railroad.

A detachment of Russian cavalry reconnoitering last night in the vicinity of Shakhe captured two Japanese guns with no loss to themselves.

The general adds that last night passed quietly, with the exception of the exploits of the Russian cavalry, and says the Russian left flank has advanced slightly.

The Emperor has received from General Kuropatkin, under date of October 18th, the following dispatch:

"During the night the Japanese attacked our advanced positions at Lone Tree Hill, but they were repulsed. No reports have been received of any other engagements. Everything was quiet at all our positions up to 10 o'clock this morning. Rain fell all night and the roads have been greatly damaged."

The Baltic Fleet.

KORSOER, ISLAND OF ZEALAND, DENMARK, Oct. 19.—The Russian Baltic fleet, consisting of fifteen battleships and cruisers, seven torpedo boats and four colliers, has traversed the great belt, going northward.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—The Baltic fleet will divide, part of it going by way of the Suez canal and the remainder round the Cape of Good Hope. Captain Jakoleff, formerly of the battleship Petropavlovsk, who is now here, explains that the delay in getting the warships through the canal makes a division of the fleet advisable, the Cape route being only a fortnight longer, with coaling at sea instead of in ports. He believes the voyage to the Far East will be made in ninety days.

A Lull in Operations.

TOKIO, Oct. 19.—No reports from the Japanese Manchurian headquarters were received either last night or to-day, and as a consequence it is assumed here that inactivity has followed the abortive Russian assaults of Monday night.

The Russian concentration in front of the armies of Generals Oku and Nodzu (the left and centre, respectively,) on Monday, reported by Field Marshal Oyama, created the impression here that the Russians were planning to assume the aggressive and that another great battle was imminent, but it is now thought that General Kuropatkin is merely seeking to protect his right and rear in order to gain time to withdraw his army across the Hun river, because it is believed it would be impossible for him either to move aggressively against the Japanese or to hold his position on the Shakhe river. Figures showing the Japanese losses since October 10th are still incomplete, as in the count of the guns and other Russian property captured by the Japanese. Figures showing the losses of the Russians are likewise incomplete.

There is a popular impression here that affairs at Port Arthur are reaching a crisis, and it is believed that the end is only a question of a few days.

Only an Artillery Duel.

TOKIO, October 19, 4 P. M.—Manchurian headquarters, telegraphing yesterday afternoon, says:

"The condition in front of the main strength of the right army shows no considerable changes. The forces of the enemy, which had been driven from Bensihu mainly retreated toward Kaloisi pass. The enemy's forces in front of the right army appear to be diminishing, but the activity of his small forces continues. There has been no considerable damage in front of the center army. The enemy tried several attacks on the night of October 17th but were repulsed every time. To-day only an artillery duel is in progress.

"The enemy in front of the left army is occasionally but indirectly shelling our positions. The enemy stopped immediately in front of our positions at a distance of from 600 to 1,000 metres and is fortifying his positions. The enemy that opposed the left detachment of our left army has halted at a line embracing Mengtapao, Sanchiatza and Hangchiatshi, and is fortifying his positions.

Latest Armies.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 20. Report 1:25 A. M.—For the moment heavy, rains and impassable roads have compelled a suspension of operations in Manchuria. There was practically no fighting yesterday and none whatever last night.

There is evidence of a new disposition of the forces on both sides. General Kuropatkin is extending his right, whether with a view to a turning movement for the safety of Lone Tree Hill, the importance of which point is fully realized by the Japanese, who have attempted to retake it in two night attacks, or whether to meet and thwart a Japanese turning movement from the west has not yet developed. The Japanese also appear to be shifting weight to the westward.

She Pricked Her Finger.

A maid employed by a prominent New York family came to her mistress with tears in her eyes not many days after she had been in the household and said that she had pricked her finger with a table fork.

"I am terribly worried, ma'am," she said, "for fear the fork may have had some brass in it and have poisoned my hand."

"Oh, nonsense, Mary!" replied the lady of the house. "How could the fork poison you when it is made of pure silver? I never allow anything else on my table."

The next day Mary and the fork which had pricked her and all the other forks and, in fact, the whole table service, guaranteed by the mistress to be solid silver, had disappeared for parts unknown.

How Savages Came to Use Knives.

The first men, armed with the simplest weapons or with none at all, pursued in the chase the animals that served them as food and, being generally in a state of starvation, tore them to pieces with their fingers and devoured on the spot the flesh, raw and bloody. In time they domesticated animals that assisted them in hunting and invented the bow and spear that enabled them to kill their prey at a greater distance.

The knife was invented as an instrument of attack or defense or for rough cutting and carving and, being commonly worn on the person, was found convenient in eating and became in time an accessory of the table for reasons so obvious that they require no explanation.

All Souls' College, Oxford.

Perhaps the most expensive education in the world is enjoyed by the undergraduates of All Souls' college, Oxford. There are usually but four of them in residence, all of them on the foundation, with just enough to keep them comfortably in their rooms aloft over the college kitchens. The college revenues approach £15,000 a year, which should give an excellent education to four young men. But All Souls' devotes its money mainly to the support of fellows and the cult of good living, and the undergraduates get their education by arrangement from other colleges.—London Chronicle.

The Geological Day.

The 6,000 years of human history form but a portion of the geological day which is passing over us. They do not extend into the yesterday of our globe, far less touch the myriads of ages spread out beyond.

The lazy man seldom has a chance to rest on his laurels.—Philadelphia Record.
